

Boise Travel Agent, LLC

PARIS - THE ROMANTIC CITY

This guide will give you some ideas for your next destination
for your next luxury vacation adventure!

Paris - The Romantic City

Paris Museums

For museum lovers, Paris is a dream come true. The challenge is choosing which museums to see and how much time to spend in museums since there is so much to see and do in this beautiful city. There are around 130 museums in Paris, France, within city limits.

There are historical museums, personal art museums, free museums, museums for the city of Paris, museums of international culture, science museums, museums for kids, museums that are monuments, modern art museums, special focus museums, church-based museums, decorative arts, alphabetical list of museums, and special exhibitions.

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

The Louvre

The Louvre Museum is the most famous museum in the world. There are also many ways to get lost in it too! The best way to visit the Louvre Museum is not to enter by the pyramid entrance! It is continuously incredibly crowded, and the queues are extremely long!

Buy your ticket before going to the museum so that you won't have to wait in a super long line at the security entrance and in a ticket line inside the lobby. Parisians invade the museums during weekends, especially during Sunday afternoons.

So, if you want to avoid the Parisian crowd, schedule your visit on a weekday morning. The Louvre Museum is open every day at 9 am and closes at 6 pm.

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

French Wine

So why is French wine just so good? One of the factors may be the winemakers' skills, inherited from a centuries-old tradition. Another important aspect is the terroir, which means a set of natural elements.

In France's case, the terroir makes the country's regions excellent for wine production to produce the world's best. The climate is also a significant influence. Whether you are a fan of wine or not, you definitely have to try out the French wine!

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

Will You Marry Me?

Paris and romance, they go together like champagne and oysters, café and croissants, jambon and beurre, which is why loved up couples make a pilgrimage to the French capital every year on Valentine's Day.

But why exactly is Paris the "city of love," and does it really deserve the title? Aside from the beauty, food, and people, historically, France was the center of ideas, art, poetry, and revolutionary politics in the Western world. And the Left Bank "intellectuals quarter" retains a sense of romanticism for couples.

You just got to come and experience the City of Romance for yourself!

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

Bridges

Thirty-seven bridges cross the Seine river within the city boundaries. Some are just for pedestrians or trains, most carry motor-traffic, and two bridges carry all three. Bridges have spanned the Seine since well before 100 BCE.

Three existing bridges were erected in the 1600s, and the newest opened just ten years ago. The Pont des Arts - is probably considered the most romantic bridge in Paris, linking the right bank, near the Louvre, and the left bank a few meters away from the Pont Neuf.

Lovers used to have a tradition: you had to lock a padlock with your name and your lover's name on it on the bridge to make your love last forever.

Sounds romantic, right?

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

Eiffel Tower

All roads seem to lead to the Trocadero for a view of the Eiffel Tower's light show. As soon as the first twinkle starts, you'll hear the crowd gasp and cheer while pulling out their phones and cameras to capture the magical moment. It's free, always open, and accessible to everyone. To warm up frozen fingers and toes afterward, head to Carrette for hot chocolate and macarons.

From the Trocadero place, you get an unobstructed view of the Tower and can play with perspective. Some even have fun holding the Eiffel tower in their hands. There is a large place with a great floor, where many famous romantic shots are taken.

A few details you need to know before you go to Trocadero:

Price: Free access

How to get there by Metro: Metro 6 & 9 - Stop Trocadero

Walking times: 1km - 10min from Eiffel Tower, 2km - 24 min from Arc de Triomphe

Closest Parking: Kleber-Longchamps - 65 Avenue Kléber

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

Fresh Organic Food

According to the International Federation for Organic Agricultural Movements (IFOAM), France is the third-largest market for organic products. Just as in the states, the trend towards organic foods is shifting in France.

France's organic market growth has been steady in the past decade and exponential in just the past year alone. Traditional French cuisine relies on fruit, vegetables, and meat either grown at home or from local farms.

Of course, supermarkets now offer many imported varieties, and the trend for processed ready meals is growing. However, farmers' markets are still popular, and there is a keen focus on the 'terroir' or origin of the food.

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

Arc de Triomphe

The Arc de Triomphe Paris, the most monumental of all triumphal arches, was built between 1806 and 1836. The Arch still retains the essence of the original concept, which was a powerful, unified ensemble. The Arc de Triomphe stands at the Place Charles de Gaulle's center, also known as the "Place de l'Étoile."

It's located at the western end of the Champs-Élysées. The triumphal arch is in honor of those who fought for France, particularly those who fought during the Napoleonic Wars. Engraved on the inside and at the top of the arch are all of the names of the generals and wars fought. This is a very historical site you wouldn't want to miss! When you're ready to visit Paris,

REQUEST A CALL BACK

Paris - The Romantic City

Trocadero

All roads seem to lead to the Trocadero for a view of the Eiffel Tower's light show. As soon as the first twinkle starts, you'll hear the crowd gasp and cheer while pulling out their phones and cameras to capture the magical moment. It's free, always open, and accessible to everyone. To warm up frozen fingers and toes afterward, head to Carrette for hot chocolate and macarons.

From the Trocadero place, you get an unobstructed view of the Tower and can play with perspective. Some even have fun holding the Eiffel tower in their hands. There is a large place with a great floor, where many famous romantic shots are taken.

A few details you need to know before you go to Trocadero:

Price: Free access

How to get there by Metro: Metro 6 & 9 - Stop Trocadero

Walking times: 1km - 10min from Eiffel Tower, 2km - 24 min from Arc de Triomphe

Closest Parking: Kleber-Longchamps - 65 Avenue Kléber

REQUEST A CALL BACK

DO YOU WANT TO TRAVEL THE WORLD-HAVE ADVENTURE- AND BE TREATED LIKE A VIP?

Schedule Your Complimentary Consultation Here

Tammy Mejors, Owner

We help busy professionals choose, plan, and book vacations that fit their personal travel style.

With hundreds of vacation options to choose from, we will save you time, effort, and money.

We make travel simple, worry-free and enjoyable.

"Live your retirement dreams today"

REQUEST A CALL BACK

OR VISIT MY WEBSITE

BOISETRAVELAGENT.COM

